President Hoover Continues to Oppose Cash Bonus Payment

Reserves Opposition To Cash, Which He Believes at Legion Convention—Doubtful How at Welfare of Nation, He Asserts.

Washington, Sept. 15 (AP).—In President Hoover's opinion, immediate cash payment of the bonus would be a deadly blow at the welfare of the nation.

"I have consistently opposed it," Mr. Hoover said yesterday. "In the public interest I must continue to oppose it."

He gave his position in a 700-word statement to the press which he said was "due to the country and to the veterans." It was directed at the American Legion convention in Portland, Oregon, and was issued after the convention legislative committee had recommended adoption of a resolution favoring full and immediate payment of adjusted service certificates.

"The welfare of the nation as a whole must take precedence over the demands of any particular group," the President said.

"I have the duty not alone to see that justice and a sympathetic attitude is taken by this nation toward the 4,000,000 veterans and their families, but also to exert myself for justice to the other 21,000,000 families to whom consumption of this calamity."

"Cash payment of face value of certificates today would require an appropriation from the Treasury of about $2,300,000,000. No matter how or in what form the payment to the veterans is imposed it will come out of all these families but of more importance, it will indefinitely set back any hope of recovery for employment, agriculture and business and will impose infinite distress upon the whole country."

"I know the courage, the sacrifice of our soldiers. But there are millions of others in the same circumstances. Their employment and their farm recovery, as well as that of the veterans, can be secured only by the restoration of the normal economic life of the nation."

"Anything that stands in the way must be opposed."

Money Not Available.

Mr. Hoover said the money required was not available. He added: "It cannot be raised by adding to the crushing burden of taxes which drain every family budget in our country today and weigh heavily on business struggling in the midst of depression. It cannot be borrowed without impairment of the credit of the national government and thus destroy that confidence upon which our whole system depends."

"It is unthinkable that the government of the United States should resort to the printing press and the issuance of fiat currency as provided in the bill which passed the House at the last session of Congress under the leadership of the Democratic vice presidential candidate."

"Such an act of moral bankruptcy would depreciate and might ultimately destroy the value of every dollar in the United States."

"Let us not forget that while we have lost much in this depression, we still have much more to lose. And our whole future may be said to depend upon early recovery."

The proposal to levy over $2,000,000,000 and to pay it to a particular group constitutes a fatal threat to the entire program of recovery, to the success of which all must look for their well-being, security and happiness."

COMFORTER'S FESTIVAL CONTINUES TONIGHT.

The large Comforter Hall was filled to capacity Wednesday night, it being the opening night of the Mardi Gras and festival which will continue tonight and Friday. Every booth was well patronized. Ken Dero as a female impersonator was congratulated as to his make-up after his identity was known.

Paul Harmon as Uncle Josh and Milton Schmitt as his wife were very popular with the crowd in their make-up as old time farm people. They caused great fun at every booth they patronized.

The electrical booth of Herbert Myers was well received and many comments were heard from the display of this booth. There were many remarks in regard to the wonderful decorations in the hall and booths.

On account of the large crowd of last evening the committee will have to purchase more merchandise in order that there will be plenty for the continuance of this festival for two more nights. The entertainment will start at 8:30, which will give everyone plenty of time to see the booths.

Search For Escaped Convict.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 15 (AP).—The search for "Loon Miller," who escaped from Great Meadow prison August 13 by hiding in an automobile belonging to the family of Warden Joseph H. Wilson as it was driven from the prison yard by a truck, was spread over a rapidly widening area today after the Department of Correction made it known that Miller was Leon Kraemer.

Treasury Receipts.

Washington, Sept. 15 (AP).—Treasury receipts for September 15 were $1,100,468.07; expenditures $12,477,418.16; balance $263,464,208.64.

Census figures for 13 days of September were $9,439,729.68.

Busy Day Ahead For Legion Convention

Portland, Ore., Sept. 15 (AP).—A demand for immediate payment of the bonus—sponsored by its legislative committee—was to be acted on today by the American Legion which last night read President Hoover's warning such action would be "a fatal threat to the entire program of recovery."

Legionnaires also were to express their views on the subject of prohibition, but apparently an attempt to have the organization censure President Hoover for use of troops in evicting the Bonus Expeditionary Force from Washington, had failed. The resolutions committee had failed to "renew" the resolution.

Supporters of the B. E. F. resolution asserted they could muster sufficient support to bring it up on the floor, but the committee's rejection seemed to offer no parliamentary loophole.

Selection of a national commander to succeed Henry L. Stevens, Jr., was the other major item before the annual convention here on its last crowded day.

Raymond Fields, a candidate for national commander and a delegate from Oklahoma, predicted the vote on the bonus would be nine to one against the President's recommendation.

"This effort will arouse resentment and be construed as political," Fields said.

Ray Kelly, Michigan, another candidate for commander, said he disagreed with the President on the financial phase of his statement.

"I believe there is no question but that the government can pay the bonus without wrecking the financial structure of the nation," Kelly said. "I base my belief on reports of over-subscription of recent bond issues."

Two Men Shot To Death In Newark

Newark, N. J., Sept. 15 (AP).—Two men identified from police records as James O'Connor and Richard Ryan, both wanted in New York, were shot down today in front of a roadside lunch stand, by four men who escaped after exchanging shots with railroad policemen. Frank Stametz, a Lehigh Railroad fireman, was struck in the knee by a stray bullet.

A short time later Jacqueline Lynch, described by police as Ryan's sweetheart, and a girl who she said was Mrs. Peggy O'Connor, wife of the other slain man, were taken into custody.

Before O'Connor died he told detectives, they said, to go to an apartment at No. 10 35th street, Irvington, "for my wife." They found no one there but learned the apartment had been occupied since last December by two men answering the description of Ryan and O'Connor and by two women, police said.

The only clues found were some Auburn prison stationery and an unsigned note with this writing: "This is Johnny. Take care of him." Police examined these papers for fingerprints.

An hour after the shooting, police found a car containing a fully loaded sawed-off shotgun and five extra shells on the floor. It was seen speeding through Weequahic Park, near the scene of the shooting.

New York Police Magnates Here

Grover Whelan, former New York city police commissioner, Inspector O'Brien and Dr. Grady of the New York department were guests of Mayor Eugene B. Carey, Police Commissioner Thomas F. Goldrick and Chief of Police J. Allan Wood at the city hall this morning.

The distinguished visitors were met at the Rondout Creek Bridge about 11 o'clock by Motorcycle Officers George Bowers and Bert Soper, who escorted them to the city hall.

Following the visit to the local officials, the men left for the New York city police camp at Tannersville, accompanied by Peter Kerensman, president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Benevolent Association.

125 OF FRANCE'S FOREIGN LEGION RELIEVED DEAD

Oran, Algeria, Sept. 15 (AP).—One hundred twenty fighting men of France's famous Foreign Legion were believed dead today as the result of an accident which sent a troop train hurtling into a ravine yesterday. Forty bodies had been taken from the twisted mass of wood and steel this morning.

About 190 were reported injured when the train, carrying 500 officers and men of the Legion, plunged 250 feet into a ravine near Tiemcen, 70 miles southwest of here, in the foothills of the Atlas Mountains.

The troops were enroute from Sidi Bel Abbes, Algeria, to Djidja, Morocco, the territory made famous by Abd el Krim a few years ago when he stubbornly resisted French and Spanish forces in this area.

Doctors with hypodermic syringes were here and there among the injured still in agony under the mass of wreckage, giving injections to ease the pain. The uninjured soldiers meanwhile, strove to clear away the debris and free their comrades.

The district is devoid of railroad lines except for the coastal line from Morocco City to Algeria.

Col. Donovan Talks On Government

Tells Kingston Rotarians People Really Too Much on Government Doing the Things They Should Do Themselves.

Whether or not the fundamentals of government that directed the activities of the original thirteen states when our nation was new, small geographically, and mainly agricultural in spirit, have been transformed effectively during the years into a government that can also understand and interpret the needs of a great nation with changed boundaries and ideas, was discussed in an enlightening and enjoyable manner by Colonel William J. Donovan of Buffalo in a speech before the Rotary Club Wednesday noon in the Governor Clinton hotel. Colonel Donovan, a student of government, proved himself to be a gifted and eloquent speaker, and his talk was greatly appreciated by the club members and guests who were in attendance at the meeting.

The speaker had one fixed idea in mind pertaining to government, namely, that government has no right to exist unless it properly serves the will of the governed.

Since the creation of our own government in the Eighteenth century until the present time, the functions of democratic government have changed. The nation has grown away from agricultural into industrialism, and it has expanded from a small territory of thirteen states into a nation whose boundaries extend to the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

"In the processes of these natural changes," said the speaker, "people have come to believe that the national government can solve every minor local problem. Instead of realizing that the real duty of a worthwhile citizen is to take an active interest in the local problems that confront him, the average citizen has come to rely upon his government as a means of solving his every problem, forgetting that he is also a part of that same government. Until men can realize that they must shoulder some share of the responsibility, our government can never be really effective."

The speaker also expressed his viewpoint on the rise of power in the Federal government, and the corresponding loss of power by the various states. Like individuals, the states of the Union have shunned responsibility to the point where almost everything seems to be a part of the central government. States, like individuals, are becoming irresponsible, and they must enter into government instead of avoiding the responsibilities it incurs.

In closing, Colonel Donovan stated that a government is only as good as the character of its people, and he appealed to men and women everywhere to take their share of responsibility in the government of which they are a part.

Prior to Colonel Donovan's talk the following guests were introduced by President Joseph Morgan: Mel Eaton, Norwalk, N. Y.; Joseph L. Murphy, Robert Groves, Fred Childs, E. W. Bonestell, Joe Hunt, Ashton, N. Y.; Edward Conway, C. J. Heiselman, and J. A. Simpson.

Beatty's Cow Gets a Bell.

Following the luncheon, President Morgan called upon Vincent A. Gorman, chairman of the Rural and Urban committee of the club, to bring the members a notice of great importance. It seems that the Rural and Urban Committee was uncertain as to its real functions, and in order to feel that this committee had any right to exist, said committee went into conference for the purpose of accomplishing something noteworthy. They were not long in finding a solution to their problem in John Beatty. Mr. Beatty knows and understands cows to a marked degree and it was decided that he would put the Rural and Urban committee in the bright light of popular acclaim by entering one of his cows in the County Fair and possibly the State Fair at Syracuse also. The cow that was chosen for this special task realized from the first that it had a destiny to perform, and snatched off prizes at both County and State Fairs. Because the cow had performed so nobly, Mr. Gorman felt that some reward was due its owner, and following a speech of appreciation, he presented a cow bell enhanced by bits of blue ribbon to Mr. Beatty, the owner of the prize cow.

SEARCH FOR BODY OF WOMAN BELIEVED SLAIN

Plymouth, Mass., Sept. 15 (AP).—District Attorney Frank H. Corne of Westchester county, N. Y., was enroute here today to confer with Massachusetts authorities who are investigating the disappearance of Mrs. Edith DuBois of Tuckahoe, N. Y.

Assistant District Attorney John Sullivan of Plymouth county, meanwhile centered his investigation in the vicinity of Great Herring Pond, where the summer home of the DuBois is located.

The decision to center activities at the pond was made after Lawrence Frazier, chauffeur for Charles DuBois, the missing woman's husband, had been questioned for six hours. The questioning according to Sullivan, resulted in "Valuable information."

George Bolling, city bacteriologist of Brockton, said that stains found on a mattress at the cottage were from human blood and he planned to study samples of hair found in the cottage and on a mooring line in a nearby pond.

American Plane Long Overdue In Rome, Unreported

Rome, Sept. 15 (AP).—Every searching agency under the control of the Italian government was set to work today to find the missing monoplane "American Nurse" which disappeared on a non-stop flight from New York to Rome.

She was due here last midnight with her crew of two men and a woman, but there was no report of the plane after 11:50 a. m. yesterday, when a steamer reported sighting it 400 miles off Southern Ireland.

As soon as he was certain that the fuel must be exhausted even if there had been no accident, General Italo Balbo, the minister for air, ordered all pilots, military and civil, on land and sea to search for signs of the plane or for wreckage. Foresters, workers, fishermen, keepers, as well as the entire national police force were instructed to be vigilant.

When darkness approached last night the huge military airport at Ciampino turned on its ground lights and from dusk to dawn the finger of a great searchlight swept the sky. A large ground crew was kept ready all night.

Roosevelt Has No Plan, Says Hurley

Huron, S. D., Sept. 15 (AP).—Secretary Hurley in an address prepared for delivery today before the South Dakota State Fair, declared Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic Presidential candidate, "has no plan to break the depression or to put men and women back to work."

The secretary of war lauded administration steps that he said had kept the United States "firm, solvent and confident of the future." He credited President Hoover with saving "millions of dollars" for American agriculture and said he was successfully piloting the nation "through one of the greatest economic storms in history."

He also asserted the Democratic house passed "bills that would have more than doubled the cost of the federal government if they had not been stopped by the senate and the President."

Secretary Hurley dealt at some length with the agricultural marketing act, saying that despite criticism from uninformed sources, this act during this crisis proved a blessing to the interests of agriculture.

ROOSEVELT FARM SPEECH MONTHS IN THE MAKING

Aboard Roosevelt Special, enroute to Denver, Sept. 15 (AP).—According to an adviser to Governor Roosevelt, the Democratic presidential nominee's speech on the farm problem, delivered yesterday at Topeka, has been several months in the making and was reviewed by many farm leaders, economists and financiers.

It was learned Mr. Roosevelt began assembling information on the farm situation as early as last April so that it would be available in event he was nominated.

Mr. Roosevelt, with farms in New York and Georgia, said yesterday that he had studied the various relief plans proposed in the past few years such as the McNary-Haagen bill, the export debenture proposal, the domestic allotment plan and others.

Within the past few months the leaders of the Farm Bureau, the Farmers Union, the Grange and other agricultural organizations have conferred with Mr. Roosevelt in Albany.

Henry Morgenthau, Jr., conservation commissioner, New York, on a business trip to the midwest last May, interviewed many of the publishers of farm periodicals. Prof. Raymond Moley of Columbia University assembled the views of economists and Joseph P. Kennedy, a New York and Boston banker, sought the views of financiers who are interested in the farm question.

Clyde M. Reed, former governor of Kansas, former U. S. Senator James A. Reed of Missouri and Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier, also conferred with Roosevelt on farm relief. Fred Freestone, master of the New York Grange, is one of Mr. Roosevelt's advisers.

Mr. Roosevelt intends to deal further with the farm problem and the tariff in the last of his four major speeches on this western swing which will be delivered at Sioux City, Iowa, on September 25.

BODY OF "OTHER WOMAN" IN BERN CASE FOUND

Sacramento, Calif., Sept. 15 (AP).—Search for the woman of the past in the life of Paul Bern, motion picture director who killed himself, was believed ended today with the finding of the body of a woman in a Sacramento slough identified as that of Miss Dorothy Millette.

Both Coroners James Garlick and Ed J. Sullivan, clerk at a San Francisco hotel where the young woman had lived, said there was no doubt the body was that of Miss Millette, once known as "Mrs. Paul Bern."

Garlick said she apparently jumped to her death from a river steamer early in the morning of September 8, less than 48 hours after Bern shot himself in the Beverly Hills home he had given as a wedding gift to his bride of two months.

Miss Millette checked out of the San Francisco hotel September 6, the day after Bern's body was found, and took a steamer bound for Sacramento.

No mention was made in Bern's will of Miss Millette, though his relatives said Bern had contributed to her support for several years. The estate was bequeathed to Miss Harlow who was named sole executrix.

14 SEIZED AUTOMOBILES TO BE SOLD FRIDAY

A chance to bid in a car or truck at your own price will be given Friday at noon at the Eagle Garage when a U. S. marshal will expose for sale at public auction fourteen cars and trucks seized by federal agents while engaged in transporting liquor. The cars will be sold at auction at the Eagle Garage on Main street at noon. From 10 until noon the cars will be on display for inspection prior to the sale. From time to time these auctions are held for the disposition of seized cars.

Investigating Murder.

Chicago, Sept. 15 (AP).—State's Attorney John A. Swanson said today he had started an investigation into the affairs of the public utility corporations, formerly controlled by Samuel Insull.

Deadline Nears For Debt Postponement

Washington, Sept. 15 (AP).—More than $2,000,000,000 owed through the treasury today as the government carried out its autumn financial debt payments and tax collections.

These huge operations were accomplished as the midnight deadline neared for formal notification to foreign debtors desiring postponement of December payments. On three of the smaller nations, Estonia, Latvia and Poland—had taken advantage of the 90-day clause in the war debt agreements. They postponed an aggregate payment of $1,250,000.

This same clause extends to all principal payments due from foreign nations three months from now, but it has not been exercised by the other debtors. Great Britain owes the largest sum of $200,000,000, and all other countries $200,000,000.

Only payments on principal were postponable today. The same debtors owe $92,449,976 in interest also due December 15. Postponements obtained through formal notification extend for two years.

The Treasury's financial operation today included borrowing $1,285,000,000 on five-year notes and one-year certificates of indebtedness, paying $50,000,000 interest on the public debt, retiring $712,500,000 in maturing certificates and receiving from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 in third-quarter income tax payments.

The financing transaction will add approximately $400,000,000 to the $20,067,179,521 public debt. Cash thus obtained will be available for needs of the Reconstruction Corporation and other federal agencies.

Police Hunt Smith In Stabbing Case

A fight between two negroes, one of whom was stabbed, at the Shultz brickyard in East Kingston Wednesday afternoon, put the local police department on a hunt for Robert "Mule" Smith, who is alleged to have cut Ernest Twier so severely that he had to be taken to the Kingston Hospital.

At the hospital Dr. Louis Schillingbaum attended Twier putting 11 stitches in his back and head to close wounds inflicted in the stabbing. This morning his condition was given as good and it was expected he would be released today.

After the fight Smith started to walk toward Kingston but got a ride on a truck. He thus reached the city more rapidly than expected and evaded Patrolmen Henry Barnum and James Burns detailed to arrest him along the River Road on which he was seen headed for Kingston.

Arriving in the city Smith sought a hiding place among colored friends in the downtown section, but evidently afraid to become entangled in the case they did not offer him shelter. The last report of him was that he left the city on a freight train bound for the vicinity of Passaic, N. J.

Besides the Kingston police, state troopers and deputy sheriffs are hunting for Smith, searching every place in this section where he might be likely to seek refuge.

Anthracite Coal Wage Disagreement

New York, Sept. 15 (AP).—Lack of agreement on wages still marked a conference of anthracite operators and representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, headed by John L. Lewis, as the conference prepared for their eighth session today.

Operators seek a wage cut the extent of the reduction they desire has not been made public. A formal statement late yesterday said there had been an exhaustive discussion of competitive fuels, their costs and relation to wage rates, and the total production of such fuels.

"Some progress has been made toward a determination of the facts pertinent to the matters under discussion," the statement said, "but nothing has been agreed upon as to the conclusions to be drawn from these facts."

OVER 300 SEE MOVING PICTURES AT ARMY

Wednesday evening, the relatives and friends of members of Battery A, the local firing battery of the 156th F. A. N. Y. G., were the guests of the battery at the armory where moving pictures taken during the summer field training period at Pine Camp, were shown. More than 300 people witnessed the work of Kingston's artillerymen while at camp.

The pictures illustrated the camps activities from reveille to taps, showing very clearly the state of perfection of the civilian soldiers in their mounted maneuvers, as a regiment mounted on the range with the famous French 75 mm. gun, pistol practice where some very good scores were made, mounted review as a regiment and evening parades and other military ceremonies connected with camp life.

A number of young men of Kingston received information from Lieutenant E. A. Stenning, operating officer, and applied for enlistment. Anyone who is interested in becoming a member of the National Guard is cordially invited to witness Battery A drill on Monday night and can receive any information relative to enlistment from the recruiting officer on Monday evenings at 7:30 o'clock.

TO SELL 2,500 PIECES OF PROPERTY IN ALBANY COUNTY

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 15 (AP).—Although county officials "regret the necessity," 2,500 pieces of property in Albany county will be put up for sale today because taxes have not been paid.

About $200,000 in last year's taxes and $50,000 in penalties is due on the property.

"I regret very much the necessity for the sale," said Felix Corcoran, county treasurer. The sale is mandatory.

Corcoran said Schenectady, Erie and Columbia counties joined him last year in a request that a bill be introduced in the Legislature "to prevent such sales for a year or two at least."

"But nothing was done," said Corcoran. The request, he said, was made to Senator Seabury C. Watsek of Westchester county.

President Outlines Four Salient Points In Caring for Needy

Washington, Sept. 15 (AP).—Appealing to the American people to support generously private relief agencies, President Hoover today outlined four salient points in caring for the needy.

They were, first, "To see that no man, woman or child shall go hungry or unbefriended through the approaching winter."

Second, "To see that our great national agencies for character building, for hospitalization, for care of children and all their vast numbers of agencies of voluntary service for the less fortunate are maintained in full strength."

Third, "To maintain the backbone principle of our liberties by the full mobilization of individual and local resources and responsibilities."

Fourth, "That we maintain the spiritual impulse in our people for generous giving and generous service—in the spirit that each is his brother's keeper."

The president spoke at the White House to several hundred noted figures in American social service and industrial life. They were meeting in a one-day welfare and relief mobilization conference to rally support behind local community projects for extending aid to the unfortunate. Twenty-nine social service organizations have been enlisted.

"This is, I trust," Mr. Hoover told them, "the last winter of this great calamity. Yet despite a dawning hope upon the horizon, individual need in the meantime may be greater than before."

He asserted, however, that although greater difficulty may be encountered this year in obtaining private subscriptions, he was "confident that you will succeed."

"Our people," he said, "are the most generous of all peoples."

Praising the previous generous response to local relief societies, the president outlined federal relief projects—the $200,000,000 fund, mammoth building programs, Red Cross distribution of government wheat and cotton and efforts to spread employment.

"With these back lines behind your efforts and those of local authorities," Mr. Hoover asserted, "we must make sure that no American will this winter go hungry or cold."

"These programs of the government are based upon the continuous support of your services. They presuppose adequate neighborhood support to your efforts, which still comprise a large part of our reliance. They presuppose that the thousands of agencies which in normal times carry the load of distress shall function this winter to their utmost capacity. Let no man believe, because we have summoned the power of government to these ends, that it can replace your efforts."

Newton D. Baker, secretary of war under President Wilson, is chairman of the conference. Replying to Mr. Hoover, Baker said that federal and state relief provisions are "helpful" but "not enough."

"To all these public recognitions," he said, "there must be added a devotion of every private resource being to extend the funds purely for relief and to preserve and intensify the curative ministrations of welfare and character building agencies which are more critically needed now than at any other time."

"The work we have in mind," he added, "is not only a mere interim provision to tide over this winter's crisis from the material point of view, but also in its larger aspects it is to continue the work of character building and to conserve and strengthen the fortitude and courage and self-reliance of our people so that there will be no deep injury done to our national life by this tragic emergency."

Baker mentioned, among other things, the need of preserving the "wholesomeness and self-reliance" of the unemployed who became charges for the first time and the need of caring for and building young men and women who leave their homes in search of work.

After hearing Mr. Hoover's address, the delegates went to the Mayflower for a luncheon and to hear Allen Pomeroy, chairman of the Reconstruction Corporation, outline the corporation's policies in making loans from the $200,000,000 relief fund, and Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, speak on cooperation between states and communities in relief work.

VARIETY OF CASES HEARD BY CITY JUDGE CULLOTON TODAY

Stephen H. Kearney of Albany avenue extension, arrested this morning by Peter Eckert and turned over to the police for driving a car with license plates issued for another, was fined $5 today by Judge Culloton in city court.

Three persons arrested Wednesday were given suspended sentences of five days in jail. They were Leonard Ferguson of 100 East Strand taken into custody by Patrolman James E. Welch on a charge of public intoxication and John and Lillian Brooks of 111 1/2 West street arrested by Officers Edward Mahoney for disorderly conduct.

John Van Loan of Richmond, arrested Monday for parking in the restricted zone uptown and for two other traffic law violations, was fined $10 in court Wednesday.

WOMEN PAST 30— WATCH YOUR GALL BLADDER

75% of all Gall Bladder Cases are Women—Symptoms that Tell; What to Do.

When a woman after 30 has the sharp stabbing pain in the back and side, under the right shoulder and down the back, it is a sign of gall bladder trouble.

Your gall bladder stores and pours bile into the digestive tract. It is a small, pear-shaped sac, and when it becomes inflamed, it causes pain and discomfort. The bile is then poured into the small intestine, and the pain is relieved.

From Germany's greatest chemist comes a simple, pleasant way to cure the gall bladder. It is a natural product of the human body, and it is the only medicine that cures the gall bladder without causing any harm to the body.

WOMEN'S NEW ERA LEAGUE ENJOYS OUTING

Once again the Women's New Era League of First Presbyterian Church had the pleasure of meeting with Mrs. William Longyear at her summer camp, so picturesquely located on the Esopus Creek. The day was a pleasant one and a goodly number of ladies was in attendance.

A delightful picnic luncheon was served on the porch at noon with a social hour following, after which the regular monthly meeting was held. Mrs. Harry P. Dederick, president of the organization, presiding.
Reports of the various committees were given and other business transacted.

Mrs. Frank Dudley conducted the devotionals and a prayer was offered by Mrs. Mary Woodard. Mrs. William H. Niles had the paper of the day entitled, "Romance and Reality in Alaska."

During the business meeting the ladies were again reminded of the turkey dinner and fair to be held the first week in December. It was requested that each lady of the society, also of the church, donate some article to be sold on this occasion.

At the close of the meeting the ladies extended a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Longyear, the hostess, for her hospitality.

OLIVE BRIDGE AT STONE RIDGE SUNDAY.

The final and deciding game of the season between the Olive Bridge Farmers and the Stone Ridge A. C. will be played on the latter's diamond Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
Stone Ridge took the first game of the series, 4-1 and Olive Bridge the second, 4-2. It has been announced that several of the Pan-Am players will be with Olive Bridge Sunday.
Battery for Olive Bridge, North and Clayton, and for Stone Ridge, Shae and Cornish.

SENTENCED TO 30 DAYS IN JAIL FOR PETIT LARCENY.

Albert Ponzi, 19, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Justice of the Peace Carpenter at Lloyd Wednesday evening. Ponzi was found guilty of petit larceny. It was alleged that while Wilfred Hasbrouck, 18, of Highland, was in swimming Ponzi appropriated a watch from the clothing of Hasbrouck. Deputy Sheriff Palmer arrested Ponzi on the charge of petit larceny.

OUT OF WORK AND CARDS HAVE NOT HELPED HIM

Kingston, N. Y., Sept. 15, 1932.

Dear Sir:
Will you allow me a little space in your column. I have applied to the relief for work and have received two cards but no work. I also applied for aid at the office in the City Hall. Five times I have been told they would "see about it." Applied to the aid-committee of my ward. He also stated he would "see about it."
I do not want charity, simply work,
and food until paid for the work.
I have a family depending on me. If the relief does not give work I will send this letter from
two cards but no work. I also applied for aid at the office in the City Hall. Five times I have been told
they would "see about it." Applied to the aid-committee of my ward. He also stated he would "see about it."
I do not want charity, simply work,
and food until paid for the work.
I have a family depending on me. If the relief does not give work I
will send this letter from help. It is through no fault of mine, I am not working. Shop closed where I worked. Is there not someone in the city who can tell me what I should do to obtain help.

I am absolutely broke.
I thank The Freeman for publishing this letter from AN OUT OF WORK MAN.

ST. PAUL LUTHERAN

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MEETING

The Young People's Society will meet in regular business meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in the assembly room.
The children's choir meets for rehearsal on Saturday afternoon at the church.

Sleeper Cannot Sleep

When it is hot and one wishes to sleep near an open window, it is a privilege, according to a judge in Berlin, Germany, but the sleeper cannot control outside noise. A Berlin court brought an action to suppress noise which disturbed his chamber. The judge said he could either put up with them or close the window.

THE FALL OF CONSTANTINOPLE

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Thomas Webb... inspired by the savage slaughter of 5000 Christian defenders—at the hands of the vengeful, barbaric horde of 250,000
men under the ruthless Mohammed II—1453!

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies
... the mildest cigarette
you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that
"Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"

—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man writes a better book, preaches a better sermon, or makes a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, the Lord will make a better path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

A Genuine* Super-Powered Frigidaire

(Two cylinders instead of One) is now offered with 1/4 Greater food space in the same sized cabinet

Yes, thanks to a revolutionary development, this low price now buys a genuine 2-cylinder Frigidaire with Super Power to freeze more ice, to keep foods fresher, to operate at lower cost.
And that's not all. With 1/4 more food space in the same sized cabinet, you can now have a roomy refrigerator even though your kitchen may be small.
You are invited to see a demonstration of the revolutionary development

... to compare this Frigidaire point
by point with any other refrigerator.
Nothing has been "cheapened." It's the same Super-Powered two-cylinder Frigidaire with the Cold Control, the vest-high shelves, the one-piece porcelain interior and many other Frigidaire conveniences. And with the low price, terms are so liberal that it is cheaper to install Frigidaire in your home right now than to go another day without it.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Sept. 15 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets.)

The following quotations represent prices on sales by commission merchants and other original receivers on the New York city downtown wholesale district up to 8 a. m.

State basket and barrel apples were weaker, as trading was very light. Receipts were moderate, but considerable supplies have accumulated from previous arrivals.

Fancy peaches met a slightly better demand at a further price advance, but fair to ordinary fruit was dull.

Attractive snap beans met a brisk demand at advanced prices. Best upstate beautiful sold at $1.75-$2.25 per bushel, wax $2-$2.50, and other varieties from $1 to $1.75.

The price trend was slightly upward on fine quality tomatoes. Arrivals of Big Boston lettuce from upstate were limited, but no improvement was noted in the quality and condition and low prices.

Sergeant Simpson Announces Lineup

The first official lineup coming from Sergeant James V. Simpson was announced today for the baseball game between the Kingston Patrolmen and Newburgh Patrolmen in Newburgh Saturday afternoon and is as follows:

Fred Stoudt, pitcher; Len Reilly, catcher.
Infield—Wes Cramer, 1b; Pete Keresman, 2b; Bill Leonard, ss and Ed Leonard, 3b.

Outfield—Clarence Brophy, lf; Earl Schoonmaker, cf and Pete Camp, rf.

Utility men—Winnie Entrott, Ed Mahoney and Sergeant J. V. Simpson.

Officers Urban Healey and Ralph Stewart, mentioned for positions on the team previously, will not be able to play because of injuries received in practice.

The last workout in preparation for the game will be held at the Athletic Field Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Kingstonians will have a chance to see the local police team in action when it plays a return game with Newburgh at the Kingston Fair Grounds on Monday afternoon, September 26, for the benefit of the Aid Committee which is interested in furnishing needy school children with shoes and other articles of clothing.

Twain's Famous Advice
Then there is Mark Twain's advice to young authors. You remember he said:

"Yes, Agassiz does recommend authors to eat fish, because the phosphorous in it makes brains. So far you are correct. But I cannot help you to a decision about the amount you need to eat—at least, not with certainty. If the specimen composition you send is about your fair usual average, I should judge that perhaps a couple of whales would be all you would want for the present. Not the largest kind, but simply good, middling-sized whales."—W. Orton Tewson, in the Detroit News.

Famous Literary Group
The name "Hartford Wits" was given by the cultivated circles of the United States to a group of Connecticut professional men and literary aspirants, who lived in Hartford or met there for converse and collaboration from shortly after the Revolution till toward 1800. The exact composition of the group is not uniformly agreed upon, but the unquestioned members were Richard Alsop, Joel Barlow, Theodore Dwight, Lemuel Hopkins and David Humphreys—Benjamin Trumbull, the historian, is sometimes added.

Famous Errors in Bible
The "Discharge Bible," printed in 1894, received its name from a typographical error whereby the phrase "I charge thee before God" was rendered "I discharge thee before God," says an article in the Syracuse Post-Standard. The "Wife-Hater Bible" spelled "Hir" with a "w" in the book of Luke, with the following result: "If any man come to me, and hate not his father . . . yes, and his own wife also, he cannot be my disciple."

Make Wise Use of Time
Time is something granted each of us in equal quantity—no many hours a day, so many days a week. It is the use we make of it that spots the difference between success and failure. Time is really more important than money, so the wise man never wastes it.—Grit.

Ostrich Not Set Down "Unclean" in Holy Writ

It has been thought by many commentators that the ostrich was reckoned amongst unclean animals, and that the writer of Leviticus 11:16 meant that bird by the word which is set down as owl in our ordinarily used version of the Bible. But it can hardly be considered wise to hold that Moses, the reputed original writer of Leviticus, was so completely ignorant of the natural history of the wilderness that he was misled into confusing the name of an owl for that of the ostrich. Nor were copiers very likely to make such a blunder. Ostriches do live in desert places, and as experience in the Great American desert of the United States shows, exist in conjunction with serpents upon which they feed.

If unclean at all it would only be on account of its omnivorous habits which lead it to swallow almost anything it can obtain. But most likely the ostrich was left out of consideration altogether in the compilation of the clean and unclean lists, as being unlikely ever to be met with in the Land of Promise.

Although the fact is not mentioned in Holy Writ, it is true that ostriches' eggs have always been used for food by travelers, and there is no authentic old tradition which exempted Jews from such custom.—Exchange.

Distinctive Titles of Which Cities Are Proud

Pavia, Italy, is called the City of a Hundred Towers, and the name is self-explanatory as is many others. Philadelphia is the City of Brotherly Love; Brooklyn, the City of Churches; New Haven, Conn., the City of Elms; Cairo, Egypt, is the City of Victory, and Limerick, Ireland, the City of the Violated Treaty, so-called because of the frequent infringements of the "Treaty of Limerick" treaty concluded in that city back in 1691.

Medina, Arabia, the city to which Mohammed fled from Mecca in 622, is often spoken of as the City of the Prophet; Calcutta, India, as the City of Palaces.

Back again in the United States, Raleigh, N. C., is referred to as the City of Oaks, and Detroit, the City of Straits, so named from its geographical situation. There are many others, too numerous to mention here, but one more, the National Capital, Washington, is the City of Magnificent Distances on account of its wide avenues and fine vistas.

Fishes Do Not Drink

When you say a man "drinks like a fish," you really imply that he does not drink. For fishes swallow no water for refreshment. When you see a fish opening and closing its mouth it is merely breathing. Water is taken in, but it does not pass down the throat to the body. While the fish breathes, its gullet is tightly constricted at the back by means of muscles encircling the throat, and the water flows away over the gills. While water does not pass the closed gullet, solid food can force an entrance. When it presses against the back of the gill, the muscles relax enough to allow it to force a way down into the stomach. Fishes require fresh air as much as humans do.

Nothing Venture

by Patricia Wentworth

CHAPTER 22
 ALMOST AN APOLOGY

THE evening was very hot. Monk brought them coffee in the library. It was still broad daylight, the terrace and the long slope to the garden in full sun, and the shadows on the lawn dead still.

Jervis went out on to the terrace, and Nan picked up a book. As long as Monk was in the room they had talked quite easily and pleasantly, when Monk was gone there seemed to be nothing to say—or too much. It was a relief to go through the pages of a book into another world. She had read no more than half a chapter, when she heard Jervis come back.

He rang to have the coffee taken away, and stood by the window smoking a cigarette until the door had closed behind Monk. Then he came over to where Nan sat by a window facing the shadowed lawn. He stood looking down upon her. "Rather unwise of you to commit yourself like that to Terrier."

Monk brought coffee to the library.

Nan looked up. If she was startled, she did not show it. Her eyes had the wide, steady gaze which roused something in him. "Anger? He took it to be anger."

"Dashing of course—but a bit unwise, don't you think?" "I don't know at all what you mean," said Nan.

"Really?" "Really?" "I'm afraid you've a bad memory. It was quite amusing to see you call Terrier's bluff, but I think you'd better have held your tongue. You see, she's only got to look up an old who's who to score off you rather badly. And as it happens, Basher is the sort of fellow who would be sure to have cartloads of old encyclopedias and who's who's knocking about the place."

"I don't know what you mean." He sat down on the arm of a big chair and leaned towards her. "Oh, I think you do. Janet's inquisitive as they're made. She'll look up home, and she and Basher will look up the appropriate volume—I forget what year Nigel Forsyth died."

"Nineteen-nineteen," said Nan. "Oh, you've looked it up?" "You didn't finish what you were saying."

"Need it?" "Please." He laughed, got up, crossed the room, beat to one of the lowest shelves, and came back with a red book in his hand.

"All right—you've asked for it. Here we are! My grandfather was a bit of a collector too. Here we have who's who for 1918."

He flicked over the leaves. "Here goes!" Forsyth, Nigel Darway. Third son of Alister Darway Forsyth of Ridgefield, Conn. Born leaving us with a sort of aunt. Her name was Mrs. Whipple—she was my mother's half-sister and the widow of a Major Whipple of the regular army. My father only came home once after the war. He died at Bagdad in nineteen-nineteen. There was only a very little money, Mrs. Whipple—she hesitated. "I can't be fair to her, because she made Cynthia very unhappy. I think she tried to do her duty. She wasn't fond of children. She wasn't fond of us, and she didn't understand Cynthia. That's why I went to Solop's as a dancing partner—I simply had to get Cynthia away."

The ash from Jervis' cigarette fell and powdered the carpet. He had been looking at her hard. His expression changed suddenly. "You mean it's true?" "It's quite easy for me to prove that it's true. I have my father's letters—I can show them to you."

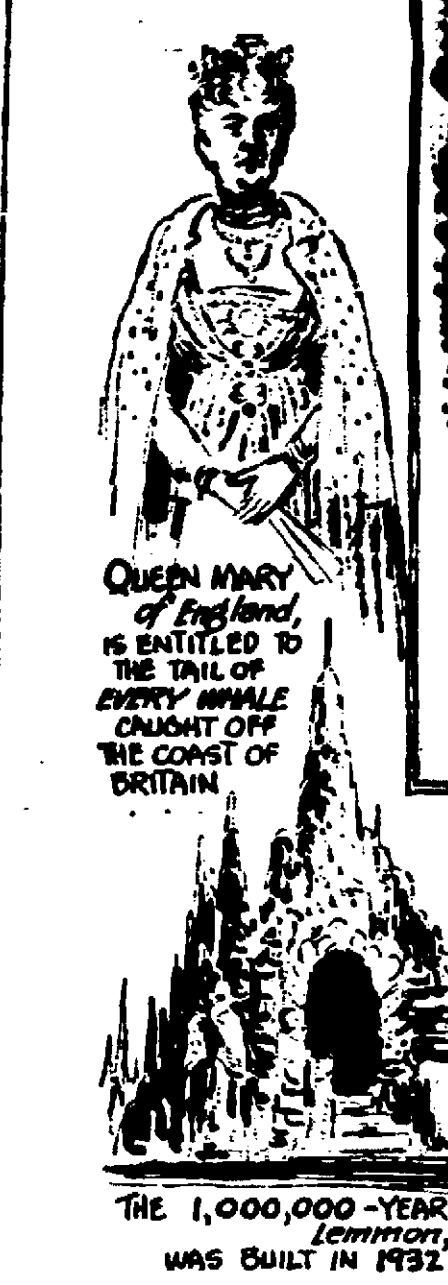

His face changed again. The momentary embarrassment passed. He looked like a triumphant schoolboy. "I've fallen on my feet! I congratulate myself—you're too angry to do it for me of course—but I'm about to apologize."

She took a step away from him. "Why didn't you believe me?" "He didn't answer the question. 'You're soon homecoming. Probably you know her as well as I. I didn't love her. But I did think we might make a go of it. And when she let me down it was a colossal crash. I'm taking no more chances—I'll buy your pardon when I see those letters.'"

"You're going to make me pay Rosamund's debt?" "Probably," returned Jervis. Nan stared up. "But suppose I won't pay?" she demanded hotly.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

BY James W. Barton, M.D.

Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act

YOUR BODY A MACHINE

It is only natural that for a great many years, physiologists, those that teach us about the workings of the body, should compare the body to a machine. They both take in fuel, give out heat and energy, and wastes must be removed from them, if they are to do their work properly.

However the outstanding difference is that the coal or fuel that enters a steam boiler never becomes a part of the steam boiler, whereas the fuel—the food—that enters that body of yours not only creates heat and energy but builds itself as part of your body; it actually becomes you.

I have always felt that we do not appreciate this wonderful phenomenon as we should.

Another difference between a machine and your body is that the machine requires no fuel when it is not working, whereas the body is using up food or fuel all the time because while actual work or exercise is not being taken, your body processes continue to work even when you are asleep.

Another difference, showing the superiority of the body over the man-made machine, is that the body can store up surplus energy—extra oxygen in the lungs, sugar in the liver, bile in the gall bladder, oxygen in the tissues, insulin in the pancreas, red blood corpuscles in the bone marrow, and other reserve stores—that can be used in emergencies.

Not only can the body store these supplies to use should no food be available, but the body can actually go into debt by using this stored energy, the body, requiring hours and days to get its supply back into the tissues again after the unusual need is past.

Another difference is that the body is always ready to act, to work. If you wish to strike or ward off a blow, to perform any act whatever, you can do it immediately, and no further energy is used up after the act is done. With the machine, it cannot act immediately but requires time to get ready for work. And when the work is done there is still some energy that is not used and so is wasted.

There are only a few of the differences between the body and the machine. You can thus see that while they are alike in some respects, that body of yours shows the planning of the Master Mind.

Words Of Praise For Woodstock Sculptor

Alfeo Faggi, sculptor, of Woodstock, conceded by leading art critics as one of America's most important artists, receives in the current issue of the Art Digest comment upon the acquisition of his bronze portrait of Yone Noguchi, Japanese poet, by the Minneapolis Institute of Arts.

The Art Digest says: "Alfeo Faggi, born in Florence (Italy) with his clinging tradition, came to America 20 years ago to gain a proper perspective. Soon after finishing his training in the Academy at Florence, Faggi realized his inclination to imitate great masters of other years under the influence of their too near greatness. A new and fresher environment was necessary, and so the sculptor came to America where he has succeeded in developing an individual style, working on the premise that art is of the spirit."

"Here," says the Bulletin of the Minneapolis Institute of Arts, "he feels that he can work freely, undisturbed by the actual tradition of the Dead Great, who in Florence surrounded him, looking always over his shoulder, questioning and criticizing him."

"A fine example of Faggi's art, a bronze head of the Japanese poet, Yone Noguchi, has just been added to the Institute's collection, purchased through the Martha Torrance Wallace Memorial Fund. Concerning this the Bulletin said: 'It was not clever modelling alone which produced this head, with its deep brow. Only an artist who had some knowledge of the spirit could have invented it with the expression of serene comprehension, tinged alike with sadness and mockery. When one looks at it one does not see the portrait of Noguchi. One sees the soul of a poet. ... Faggi is an ascetic, expressing himself in the manner of the austere Italian Primitives. In his attenuated forms all unnecessary elements are eliminated. He searches and probes for the spiritual likeness of his sitter, then clothes it in the simplest outward likeness, modelling a body only accidentally to reveal it as a symbol of the spirit. For this reason some of his works appear crude and unfinished at first glance, but on closer observation one sees that they are animated by spiritual truth. In Faggi's hands material actuality becomes refined to the point of sheer expression. He is interested in personality only as far as it reveals the soul.'"

DON'T BE SLOWED DOWN BY STALE GAS

YOU PAY FOR POWER...GET IT!

Only FRESH gas gives you all the power you pay for. Why? Because as gas gets staler, it gets weaker. Loses volatile "easy starting" elements. Falls victim to a chemical change—and gets sluggish and feeble.

Another thing. The staler the gas, the stickier it is. And the more apt it is to make a motor knock.

That's why Gulf is pleased to announce a system that assures you of getting FRESH-MADE gasoline—packed with power. Two important developments make this possible...

First, Gulf refines out of its fine gasoline the complex elements that cause rapid deterioration. Hence, Gulf gas stays FRESH longer.

Second, Gulf speeds you this FRESH gas in a hurry! Huge Gulf refineries are located in many parts of the country—so that every Gulf station is close to a source of FRESH gas. A vast fleet of tank trucks rushes FRESH gas to Gulf pumps every day.

Don't let stale gas deaden your motor! Get FRESH-MADE gas—packed with power. Get Gulf—for a faster, cleaner, quieter motor.

September Shows—The man with the broadest hat probably doesn't know how to rope an old family cow. Sometimes a lady killer is a bird who starves his wife to death. Nowadays it's the poor relations who are being annoyed by the relatives who were formerly rich. All the boy friends used to do was to call up his broker now all he calls up is his pawn broker. When a girl sets out to hunt herself a husband, she isn't always particular whose husband she gets. Maybe the reason why it costs some women twice as much for beauty upkeep is because they're two-faced. Judging from the big rush to the beauty parlors, every woman must be trying to "save her face". When Solomon said there was nothing new under the sun, he hadn't seen the new sun-bathing suits. Anyway, the campaign orator can hardly be worse than some other things heard over the radio. We heard of a singer who had two bath tubs in his home, one for singing and one for bathing. A man soon learns to his sorrow that it takes more than mink coats, fur scarves or ermine wraps to keep a wife's love warm. The minute you ask some fellows a trifling question they lean back and talk for half an hour.

Jee—How come you go steady with Eloise?

Hal—She's different from other girls.

Jee—How is that?

Hal—She's the only girl who will go with me.

Hazel—Have you told your husband about your new permanent wave?

Rachel—No, I'm keeping it under my hat.

Beware of the man you like too well on first acquaintance. He's likely to be a case of putting all of the good apples on top.

Big Boss—Did you deliver that message to Mr. Dunn?

Office Boy—Nope, he wasn't in.

Big Boss—Why didn't you wait for him as I told you?

Office Boy—Well, the door was locked, and the sign on it said: "Return immediately," so I beat it back here as fast as I could.

Bartling: Your voice is like the wind on summer night.

Melodious and sweet: Your hair-like willows on a summer night.

So calm and soft and neat: Your cheeks are like a rose on summer night.

So lovely and so wan: Your shoulders like a lake on a summer night.

On which there rests a swan: In fact I'd say your eyes would be like stars on summer night.

If only that your left one looked the same way as the right.

If you have a fire and the loss is fully covered by insurance gossip say you set it on fire to get your money. If you have no insurance, you are condemned for your negligence.

Solicitor—Why did you throw the pot of geraniums at the plaintiff?

Prisoner—Because of an advertisement.

Solicitor—What advertisement?

Prisoner—Say it with flowers.

Character Revealed in Great Men's Portraits

Those interested in character reading from faces know that the qualities indicated by one feature may be totally contradicted by those shown by another. The following story illustrates this.

The famous artist, John Sargent, painted Joseph Pulitzer. All went well till the fourth sitting. Pulitzer had been calm and amiable till then, but unfortunately his temper was greatly ruffled by the sudden appearance in the studio of a man whom he detested.

"A look of fury and impatience entirely changed the face of the subject, and Sargent contemplated the scene with keen interest, while making a dab or two upon the canvas." The result of that unlucky contretemps was registered in the completed portrait. The dual nature of the sitter was clearly indicated. "Hide with a sheet of paper one half of the face and you have a benevolent, middle-aged gentleman. Observe now the other half, and you have the malevolent, sinister, and cruel expression of a Mephisto."

If we apply that test to some present-day portraits we might be disagreeably startled by the result!

"Hard Habit" Strong in Minds of All Russians

The Russian's proneness to regimentation is a mental habit, arising from centuries of living in a society that is a cultural herd; it is undoubtedly one cause for his emotional acceptance of the Soviet regime.

I saw a pretty symbol of this trait one evening at the opera in Moscow, says Waldo Frank, writing in the New Republic. During the act, the audience (workers, students, petty officials) went into the foyer. "Quite unconsciously, they fell into line and began to circle round and round the large hall in order."

Because of these inherent Russian traits, the intellectuals and the intellectual arts of the U. S. S. R. are in a peculiarly "dangerous position" under a proletarian dictatorship which encourages (and makes effective) the habits of the masses.

Really Had Told Truth

A Chinese gardener told a horse to a farmer, and during the transaction he repeatedly said: "Horse no look well, but plenty paid."

It was subsequently discovered that the animal was blind, and, incensed at being taken in by a Chinese, the purchaser took John to court.

"Did you know the horse was blind?" asked the magistrate.

"Oh, yeh, I know long time," John replied.

"Then why didn't you tell him so?" the magistrate demanded.

"I tell him all," said the Chinese.

"I tell him plenty time horse no look well."

That being admitted, the case was dismissed.

Sunny Dispositions

A sunny disposition is a gift from God. There are many whose minds are filled with gloomy thoughts, and who look on the dark side of everything. Such people cannot radiate sunshine until they fill their minds with the brighter, happier thoughts. This is not an easy matter, for when gloomy thoughts receive encouragement to remain, it is hard to displace them with more cheerful ones. If we go persistently to work to cultivate a sunny disposition, our efforts will at length be rewarded, and we shall be the possessors of a brightness and cheerfulness scarcely distinguishable from that bestowed as a natural gift. —A. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. DeWitt of Allertville enjoyed a motor trip through this vicinity and were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Brown Sunday afternoon.

Vegetables of Spiders

Spiders are cannibals. Members of some species often associate with members of other species, all living together without rancorously, apparently, when there is sufficient food for all. Members of other species are intolerant of strangers. Some webs are suited to snare very small and delicate insects that breed in water close to the spiders' dwelling places. Not far from these webs may be seen stout webs that hold heavy insects. Some hunting spiders live in flowers and catch flying insects that sip the flowers' nectar. Other spiders live all their lives under stones, and feed almost exclusively on creatures that crawl. They then moths and butterflies and other insects that flap their wings.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF ULSTER
—IMMOGNE DICKINSON, Plaintiff against EMMA BERTHA FUHRMAN, CLERK, COUNTY DEVELOPMENT.

IN PURSUANCE OF A JUDGMENT OF FORECLOSURE AND SALE duly made and entered in the above cause in the County of Ulster, New York, and the County of Ulster, New York, dated the 9th day of September, 1932, I, the undersigned Referee in said Judgment named, do hereby certify that the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, New York, at a sale of real estate, on Friday, October 21st, 1932, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therefor described as follows, to wit:

By a new principle—impact-expansion atomization—low-priced oil is effectively atomized, then made to give up its full measure of heat. But G-E engineers didn't stop there. They perfected a furnace that delivers this heat promptly when the Thermal Control calls for it. No chimney waste. No money waste!

What else does a home owner want in a complete heating plant? A plentiful supply of hot water summer and winter! That's just what the G-E Oil Furnace gives you at a fuel cost of only a few dollars a month.

This hot water heater is NOT an extra. It's a built-in convenience. All features, all controls including electric clock thermostat, even oil tank and installation are included in the price you pay, a sensibly low price for complete oil heating equipment guaranteed by our responsible company, General Electric.

See the new G-E Oil Furnace at the local showroom or send the coupon for the facts. General Electric Company, Air Conditioning Dept., 120 Broadway, New York City.

SEE THE NEW GENERAL ELECTRIC OIL FURNACE

SO CLEAN, SO QUIET
YOUR CELLAR IS YOUR GAME ROOM

Draw up your collar. The new G-E Oil Furnace will help you do it. It's good looking. And it won't interfere with your fun. So quiet you can play bridge. So clean you can wear your best clothes. And even the most sensitive nose won't complain of the slightest odor. That's because the G-E is sealed in steel, has no exposed gas parts, operates under a partial vacuum.

BURNS LESS FUEL.
THANKS TO PROGRESSIVE
COMBUSTION

You burn low-priced fuel and less of it in the new G-E Oil Furnace. G-E engineers saw to it that when they perfected impact-expansion atomization... when they found a way to capture the full measure of heat by progressive combustion, and to deliver that heat promptly when the Thermal Control calls for it. Progressive combustion is another reason for the quiet operation of the new G-E.

Fashions by Eleanor Gunn

Street Scenes Are Best Costumed in Black

New York—The news value of color cannot be over-estimated in reports of current fashion but one is cautioned against forgetting the classic importance of black. Color only makes black the smarter for certain purposes and among them is most certainly street wear.

Although colored ensembles and colored coats are being shown, women who think ahead are going to hold black in high esteem. It is the same with hats. One may have hats of every color imaginable but none of these really take the place of the all black hat.

One of the new ways of introducing more or less familiar colors this season is by calling them face powder shades. Such colors are extremely well thought of for lingerie. The idea is that the strap covering the shoulder should match the shoulder, and it is assumed that the powder used does match the skin. These subtle nuances of the pink and nude shades offer an attractive talking point as the tints themselves. These shades are not restricted to lingerie but substitute for white and egg shell trimming details.

If black appeals, as being the most practical selection this fall, it may be well to remember that one may take their blacks either dull or shiny. Crepe satin, shiny of course, is being launched with considerable success, but this does not seem to militate against the sale of flat crepes and even ribbon silks.

Black woollens are voted very smart, with or without colored embellishments and black velvets of several kinds, among which is crinkled velvet, have never had a better chance of success. Black broadcloth may still strike you as sensation for evening but before many moons wax and wane it will not seem so. Broadcloth evening wraps are another great expectation. Purple is one of the shades backed to win this winter. It is to be worn either day or night.

Furs Find New Uses

Lavish fur trimmings, employed in definitely new ways, made coats and formal daytime suits extremely interesting. Coats with fur sleeves and bodices widened by fur trimming in such a way that the coat looked as though it had an entire fur top are new. There was an evident desire to swerve from the much used silver fox trimming, and this brought into prominence the medium-length hair furs, such as squirrel, kolinsky and Persian lamb. Soft, hairy surfaced rough woollens are cited as important coatings.

WOOL WITH VELVET

Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild

This dress combines black rough crepe with black velvet, the former medium used for the dress, while the sleeves and detachable cape in there are in matching velvet.

ENGLISH TWEED

This typically English tweed suit in black and white check is exquisitely tailored. Isabel of London, court dressmaker, sponsors it. There is a "touch that tells" in the detail of the pocket and the design at the top of the sleeves. White ocean pearl buttons sewn through with black faille trim the deep collar of the white maroon jumper. A necklace of overlapping pearl leaves is appropriately worn with the costume. Now that there is such a wide selection of ocean pearl button, clips and buckles dyed in fashionable colors to be had, the outlook is for their lavish use this fall. Elaborately designed styles which introduce maroon or rhinestone greatly increase the scope of this attractive type of trimming.

Buttons Trim New Gowns for Summer Evenings

Buttons are used to trim a summer evening gown of pink cross-bar organdy. The buttons, covered with the same material, are set in a prim row down the front of the high basque-like bodice and in the back below the waist on the deep yoke of the skirt.

Mother's Cook Book

NOT WEATHER DRINKS

DRINK the summer weather and drinks are used more freely and it is a great satisfaction to have something good, cold, and palatable ready to serve one's friends. Lemon sirup, aside from its being more delicious than ordinary lemonade, gives one the assurance of its always being ready to serve at its moment's notice.

Lemon Sirup

Squeeze the juice from enough lemons (probably five dozen) to make two quarts of the juice. Add enough of the grated rind to suit the taste, six pounds of sugar, and two and one-half quarts of water. Heat to the boiling point, strain and bottle. Keep cold. When serving pour a tablespoonful or two of the sirup over chilled ice in the glass, add water and serve.

Chocolate Sirup

Mix together one pound of chocolate, one pound of sugar, and one pint of water; add a few drops of vanilla or cinnamon extract. Keep cold; use three tablespoonfuls to a glass of chilled, iced milk.

Ginger Punch

Chop half a pound of canton ginger, add one quart of cold water, one cupful of sugar, boil fifteen minutes, strain, add one-half cupful of orange juice and the same of lemon juice. Serve on crushed ice.

Fruit Punch

Make a sirup by boiling one cupful of water, two cupfuls of sugar until smooth, add one cupful of strong tea, two cupfuls of strawberry sirup, the juice of five lemons, five oranges and one can of chopped pineapple. Mix and let stand until cool. Strain, add three quarts of chilled water, one quart of mineral water, one cupful of cherries. Serve in a punch bowl with ice.

Currentade

Take one quart of currants, one pint of raspberries, one quart each of water and sugar boiled to a sirup; cool. Serve in a punch bowl with ice. Strain before putting in the bowl. Add ginger ale to grape juice for a nice drink.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Suffering

Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause. Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. K. Lushardt, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money back guarantee. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when McFride Drug Stores and all good drug stores invite you to try HEM-ROID tablets with guarantee of money refunded if they do not end your Pile misery.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Evening dresses show a tendency to depart from the extreme formality of very low cut décolletage, and therefore the covered shoulder variations are most important in formal silhouettes.

Clothes for the Kindergarten Age

E. CHERIE NICHOLAS

AS IF college-going daughters and those of high and grammar-school age were the only ones who must face the "eternal-feminine" question of dress which the back-to-school season always brings on! What about the myriads of youngsters in kindergarten or in first-grade classes? Well, it's mother who must solve this problem. To be "practical" in childhood's realm, clothes must yield kindly to frequent tubings. From this point mothers are finding out that corduroy for flay-tot coats and any one or more of the now-so-popular durable cotton meshes for wee folk's frocks serve a hundred per cent perfect.

Not only do the good looks and the washable qualities of corduroy speak in its favor but the fact that the modern weaves is so much more supple than the old-style corduroy and lighter in weight, makes this material infinitely easier for the seamstress to handle. And so, mothers who know have come to consider corduroy a medium-ideal for the making of children's school and playtime apparel.

The corduroy costume hat "set" which Miss Caryllocks is so proudly wearing in the picture might wisely be included in the wardrobe of any little girl who must go back and forth to kindergarten during crisp autumn days. Much to the delight of its wearer it has a cunning white bunny appliqued on each pocket. A self-curtain tie in current fashion close up around the throat to insure adult fashion. The neckline is, however, adjustable in that the coat can be thrown open, forming lapels of the front.

Mothers seeking materials for little girls' school dresses are making new discoveries in the realm of cotton fabrics which are proving genuinely helpful to them. They are finding smart durable cottons so artfully woven as to have an expensive woolly appearance whereas in reality they are unbelievably low-priced. Diagonals, ribbed effects, basket weaves, herringbone stripes and all sorts of fascinating novelties are included, and in a range of delectable colors from pastel tints to the very latest autumn reds, greens, navies and browns.

The oldest child in the picture is gowned in an attractive dress made of durable cotton mesh. It features a yoke which buttons up the front so that it will slip on and off easily. There is also a matching bolero (in her hand). The ball and cord tie which is an effective trimming touch is easily made of yarn. The jaunty little durum mesh trimmed hat is an interpretation of a French juvenile fashion. The whole outfit washes beautifully—comes out looking like new from each tubing.

A toy-tot wardrobe would not be complete this season without at least one tailored costume. One can get such "cute" little sweater-and-skirt outfits and in charming color combinations. These make a great point of interesting stitch effects.

Local Scenes In Woodstock Exhibit

The fifth and final exhibition of the year of the Woodstock Art Association opened at the Art Gallery last Saturday, September 10, to remain until the 26th, with one of the most representative shows of the season. Missing from the roster are Judson Smith, Konrad Cramer, Eugene Spelcher, Henry Lee McFee, Kuniyoshi Bradley Walber Tomlin and Henry Mattson. It is to the credit of the colony that with these missing a distinctive show has been assembled.

In the main gallery there are 44 exhibits. Landscapes, of which there are 18, lead in subject representation. Two of these, Harry Leith-Ross's "Brick Block" and Neil Ives's "Hudson River," a dock and hills at the brickyard, depict scenes in and near Kingston. There are eight still life paintings, nine portraits and the remainder are made up of sculptures, miscellaneous canvases and a pottery group by Jennie A. Stagg.

The landscapes are unusually distinctive. R. Albert Bruggers' "East Kingston," a pictorial canvas mainly, contains rich color harmonies and a true feeling for his subject. "Frederick Farm," by Peter Mearns, is an excellent study in landscape contour of the rolling country at Bearsville. Neil Ives's "Hudson River" is to this reviewer one of the most poetic pictures ever seen at the gallery. It has been said that the artist sees many things of shade and color in his canvases that the reviewer is sure to miss, but to one whose youth contains associations with this section of Kingston this is not altogether true. To be sure, Mr. Ives has caught more than a mood, for in the painting is a strong element of passing phase in industry contrasted with the eternal sweep of the river. From this viewpoint Mr. Ives has constructed a literary picture with personality as his theme.

Almost completely reversing his values of color and composition Carl Eric Lindin, president of the Art Association, has created a vivid impression of a Swedish countryside in his "Swedish Landscape." Mr. Lindin's forte, as exhibited, has seemed to be in a tenacious acceptance of themes dominated by purples, mauves and, generally, a dark, sombre palette, but in the current show is seen a light-hearted transcription of something remembered as a boy. The result is successful. Hobson Pittman's "Late Afternoon," another scene from this artist's West Philadelphia scrapbook, is basically a crisp study of architectural motives. In its cold realism in the mind of a mathematician, but unlike several artists of the Woodstock colony who hold to these principles, the painting is not pale but imaginative and suggestive. Others with notable landscapes are Lucille Blanch, the "Beach," Dorothy Varian, "Barrenland," Frank London, Georgina Klitzgaard, "Corn stalks," Charles Rosen's "Hill Town," Andrew Reuland, "Catskill Sawmill," Noda, "San Francisco," Gene Ludin's convincing and entertaining original "Tel and Tel," Florence Ballin Cramer's fascinating canvas, "Landscape," Paul Meltsner, and H. E. Kleinert, "Autumn Landscapes."

In portraits there are to be seen Dorothy Gilbert, with a fine, sensitive study of a child; Arnold Blanch's character delineation in "Young Boy"; Yamasaki's "Little Girl" and Harry Gottlieb's "Fisherman's Family." Gottlieb's painting is perhaps the best thing this artist has shown since his return from Europe as a student on a Guggenheim Fellowship. It has a provincial flavor to be found in the best literature, say that of Loti. The canvas bears all the essentials of poverty-stricken humanity, but Mr. Gottlieb has not dealt without romance and idealism; nor has he omitted the probable key-note of the family's unity to be seen in the crucifix upon the wall. Mr. Gottlieb has shown, in addition, superstition and a candid squallor that makes his canvas real. Outstanding among the still life paintings are Woodford Hoyce's "Gladstone," H. V. Schwabbe's "The Blue Vase," Elizabeth N. de Urz's "Still Life," Helen Rouse, "Sunflower Variation," Jane Rogers, "Terminus," and Paul Holland's "Hollyhocks." The work of Woodford Hoyce, a young artist, has been remarkably fine this season; his "Gladstone" is a still life painting rich in color; it is harmonious and is rendered with the flower lover's attention to minute detail. Miss de Urz's picture is of a bowl of fruit, carefully done and pleasing in its entirety. Helen Rouse's "Sunflower Variation" is a picture somewhat daring in its color contrasts, but it holds together well; its composition is well executed. In sculptures are Eugene Gese's "Figure, Terra Cotta," "Head," by C. Yamasaki, and Hannah Necklem's reclining figure in stone. "Figure," Mrs. Necklem works with a poised and certain which she combines remarkably with a sensitive appreciation of form. Her sculptures are always delightful in the degree that one should like to own them. In the Print Room are, principally, Jo Rello, Nan Mason, Andrew Reuland, Emil Ganso, Austin Necklem, J. W. Taylor, Victoria Hutson and Pamela V. Brown. The media are drawings, lithographs and water colors.

Union House Card Party. The Ladies' Auxiliary of Union House will hold a card party on the lawn at the home of Mrs. McAndrew, 18 Adams street, Thursday afternoon, September 22. Games start 2 p. m. The public is invited. Admission will be charged.

Before You Modernize Your Kitchen See It As It Will Be

REMAKING your kitchen can be great fun, if some of the troublesome details can be worked out for you in advance, and the information you need be ready when you need it.

It is just that service that our Home Modernizing Bureau can and will render for you. When you modernize, you will find them interested in the same things you are. You will find too, that their experience and training will help you to work out your own plans and ideas more effectively.

The personalized Plan Book which our Modernizing Bureau will prepare—made-to-order for your own home, and including your own ideas—will help you to picture in advance your new kitchen as it will be. The book will include detailed specifications, and with them, an architect's sketch to show the results.

The work of the Bureau is our contribution to the great movement for home modernizing, and no charge is ever made for their advisory service. Call upon them freely.

TRIAL DEFENDANT AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

having some academic studies taught without adding cost to the tax levy. We are trying to bear up at this time under an equal tax burden and think this is not the time to hunt a match which we may not be able to extinguish. We are not certain that the citizens of Blue Mountain wish to give up their school and this may be the beginning of another policy in the administration of affairs in our school district.

We have our own interests, our own local affairs, troubles, our own church, stores, schools, etc., and we desire to discuss them within our own limits. We therefore ask for a special meeting of taxpayers to discuss this matter of transportation, to consider the action of the District Superintendent in compelling the signing of contract in view of the resignation of Harry Freligh and the majority vote of the district.

We feel that we have rights in the matter that should be respected and before any contract goes into effect we should have some voice in the matter either to approve or disapprove said contract and then if legal action is taken the responsibility will then rest where it belongs.

LIGHTS OF NEW YORK

On the way to dine at the French club which used to be known as the French club, a man named John J. Corcoran, my wife called my attention to the tremendous change in New York in the past two years. In former days, he was eating at a restaurant, you always found to see whether there was a vacant lot or an old building next door. Should there be either of these things, the chances were that building would be going on, which meant that riveting machines would be located in your house. They would start their clatter early in the morning and continue until the evening shadows fell. Anti-noise societies used to have spasms of indignation and Franklin P. Adams used to write scathing paragraphs, but old men like just kept roaring along. These were the golden days of '20.

Old Twenty-niners can remember when streets were blocked with beams, and piles of bricks; when pedestrians walked through the after block of protective and temporary wooden tunnels; when both sides of the sidewalks and plumb lines, carpenters, plasterers, steelworkers, and masons each contributed their brass filigree, sawdust, lime puddles, steel shavings, and brick and plaster particles to the city ozone. But this is 1932. The air is clean and so are the streets. The sight of building litter would be as welcome as the discovery of land to Columbus. The sound of a riveting machine would be a wailing strain. About the only place you can see and hear construction going on is around Rockefeller Center. And a fellow can't hang around there all day. We are thinking of asking Deane Aylesworth to use his influence to get a riveting machine fifteen minutes a day on the air. The great radio audience would tune in from Maine to California.

Edward G. Robinson, the film favorite, looks quite a bit like Enell Fuchs, the baseball magnate. They say that Judge Fuchs, as a criminal lawyer, never lost a decision. Ed Anthony and Frank Borah have been literary collaborators. Ed might have caught the animals, but Frank never could have written the books. The Ed Anthony and Charles Dana Gibson domes compare very favorably with those of the Capitol at Washington. The Martin Egan and John Guiton de la Mothe Borglum domes might be in the running. The Marcus Cook Connelly roof is more like a minaret. It might be said Sculptor Borglum and Senator Borah were two of the busiest men who ever came out of Idaho, except that William Edgar Borah was born in Illinois. Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, says there are no new problems and that there has been no fundamental change in youth. It being the mature generation which has gone helmy. Victor Moore is one comedian who makes me laugh.

New York is represented in the United States senate by Royal R. Copeland, born in Dexter, Mich., and Robert R. Wagner, born in Nassau, Germany. At a wild guess, not more than half the senators were born in the states they represent.

Ours is in many ways a peculiar form of government. A senator from New York, with its 12,000,000 population, has no more voting power than a senator from Nevada, with its 11,000 population. The vote of a senator from Texas, with its 2,222,222 square miles, has the same weight as the vote of a senator from Rhode Island, with its 1,077 square miles.

Texas Gets Education as Riding Instructor

Fort Davis, Texas.—A riding school which Johnny Prude started as an experiment has put him within striking distance of a degree from Sul Ross State Teachers' college and may develop into such a lucrative business he will ultimately devote all his time to it. Prude enrolled in the school in 1928, but dropped out of school when he married. He taught rural schools in the winter and took summer courses from the teachers' college. In 1930 he started his riding academy for Sul Ross students, a project which authorities endorsed. In two years the enrollment jumped to forty and he has employed three college students to aid him.

6,000 Pies Are Spilled on Road in Auto Wreck

Clear Lake, Minn.—Six thousand pies, en route from Minneapolis to Fargo, N. D., were destroyed when a truck ran into a horse barn. The horse was being led along the highway when it was startled by the lights of the truck, and failed to get out of the path of the approaching truck, which could not be stopped. The horse was killed and the pies scattered over the countryside as the truck turned over three times.

Miniature Engine Will Travel 30 Miles an Hour

Kaukauna, Wis.—A miniature locomotive, 43 inches long and eight inches high, that will travel 30 miles an hour under its own power, has been constructed here by Arnold Kline. It was modeled after a Great Northern locomotive.

LONG HUNTED GOLD RARED BY CHANCE

Water Left Unattended Uncovered Idaho Vein.

Spokane, Wash.—An unattended domestic stream, playing on a hillside, uncovered the Crawford vein, Idaho's most promising recent gold discovery, after prospectors had sought vainly for it for nearly 17 years.

J. R. Crawford, owner of the land through which part of the vein runs and one of the most persistent searchers, told about it when he brought many samples here for an analysis.

As far back as 1915, he related, indications of a vein were seen in a flat near Oroville, and mining men quietly poked about nearby hillside. They panned over acres of scars left by early-day miners, who recovered millions of dollars' worth of gold during and shortly after the Civil war.

A few months ago, about 11 years after he began the search, Crawford was examining a flat. He let the hydraulic ramble spring idly toward a bank. After 20 feet of the bank had been washed away, a young landslide roared down the mountain upon another miner's cabin.

Crawford ran to the miner's aid, then returned to the nozzle. Glimmering gold caught his eye. The vein had been uncovered. Rushing to his cabin, he obtained a pan and found free gold in the gravel that lay close to the vein.

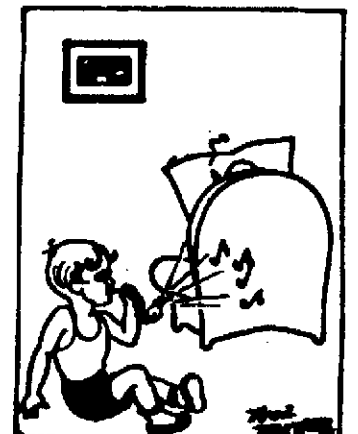

Keeping his discovery secret for months while he explored, Crawford traced the vein to state land. When he applied for a permit to mine on this state land the public learned of the discovery, and hundreds of amateur prospectors working nearby streams and experienced miners rushed to the locality.

They were disappointed, however, because much expensive development must be undertaken before much gold is recovered.

Stewart Campbell, Idaho state mines inspector, known for his conservatism, spent some time on the property, picking samples of quartz from the vein and passing the gravel. Then he said: "It is valuable enough to be developed."

Other mining engineers, including F. W. Callaway of Kellogg, expressed belief development would reveal a rich deposit.

GOVERNORSHIP HER GOAL — AT 52

Margaret Fitzpatrick Gets Film Chance But Her Real Aim Is To Be Alabama's First Woman Chief Executive

A screen career isn't the first interest of Margaret Fitzpatrick of Birmingham, Ala., even if she does possess a movie contract. She wants to be Alabama's first woman governor, and she plans to study law in preparation. She will be known on the screen as Gail Patrick.

DRY BROOK

Dry Brook, Sept. 15.—Miss Mary Cousins of New York City, who spent the summer with Mrs. George Armstrong, Sr., returned to the city recently. Mrs. Cousins and three children, Mrs. Alexander and the Misses Catherine and Eleanor Cleary returned to their home in Jersey City Saturday, having spent their vacation at Mr. Cousins' summer home, "The Shack," on the Belle Ayre road. Mr. Cousins will remain for a time. Mrs. Shearer and Miss Laurette Miller of New York City are visiting their sister, Mrs. Gus Stewart, at "Fern Crest" Fox Ranch. Mrs. Thompson of Wallkill and Edwina Kittle of Kingston were callers in this place last week. Mr. Thompson was disposing of some of his bountiful crop of peaches grown on his place.

While returning from the movies Saturday evening a deer was seen to go bounding across the highway directly in front of an automobile and headed directly toward Mr. De Silva's cauliflower field coming from near Dennis Mead's residence. All wonder if Mr. De Silva found where it destroyed any plants.

Earl Gosson of Pine Hill found a bee tree Sunday on the Stewart farm but same contained only a small amount of honey.

Don't Die for Truth

No man dies for what he knows to be true. Men die for what some terror in their hearts tells them is not true.—Oscar Wilde.

RESERVES DECISION IN MAYORALTY TEST CASE

New York, Sept. 15 (AP)—The question of when New York will elect a mayor to fill the post James J. Walker resigned to now in Supreme Court Justice McHugh's hands, but it appears likely the case will be decided by the court of appeals.

In a hearing yesterday, representatives of Tammany Hall and Socialists argued for an election November 8. Representatives of Mayor Joseph V. McKee, who succeeded Walker, appeared in behalf of his action to test his right to hold office until a year from January. The judge reserved decision. Walker is a Tammany man, while McKee is a non-Tammany Democrat, being a Bronx man. Tammany has not indicated who it will support for the mayoralty.

ALLIGERVILLE

Alligerville, Sept. 15.—The members of the Ladies Aid spent a very pleasant afternoon with Mrs. L. W. Atkins at her home Wednesday afternoon. Plans for winter work were discussed and considerable business transacted. After the meeting, Mrs. Atkins served delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Frank Stevens in October. The teacher and pupils of the school wish to express their thanks to Virgil Cross for his gift to the school of subscriptions for "Weekly Readers" for nine pupils in the fourth grade, and "Current Events" for nine pupils in the upper grades. The pupils assure Mr. Cross that they will make the best possible use of this thoughtful gift. The friends of Mrs. George Davidson are glad to know that she is improving at the Benedictine Hospital. The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jan-

How Modern Women Lose Pounds of Fat Swiftly—Safely

Gain Physical Vigor—YOUTHFULNESS
With Clear Skin and Vivacious
Eyes That Sparkle With Charismatic Health.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.
Put down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—your eyes sparkle with glorious health—you feel younger in body—keener in mind. Kruschen will give any fat person a joyous surprise.

Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts—the cost is trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. If you take first bottle down to Kruschen you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat. If you don't feel a superb improvement in health—so gloriously energetic—stop taking Salts—your money gladly returned.

But be sure for your health's sake that you get the real Kruschen Salts. Get them at McRide Drug Store or any drug store in the world.

Collision Case In The County Court

In county court Wednesday afternoon the negligence action brought by Abram Short against George Hanser was continued. This is an action growing out of a collision between the Short and Hanser cars at the junction of Albany avenue and Roosevelt avenue on February 5, 1931. Mr. Short alleges that his Durant car was damaged to the extent of $95.25 and seeks to recover damages in that amount. Hanser denies that the damage was caused by negligence on his part.

According to the evidence as presented by plaintiff, he and gone to Hoffman street and picked up his three daughters and Thelma North, who worked there. He drove out Albany avenue to Roosevelt avenue and headed in Roosevelt avenue, and then stopped to let Miss North out.

It had been raining in the morning and during the day had turned warm and thawed and at the time of the accident it was slippery. After letting Miss North alight he turned his car around and started for home.
Alberta Short testified she saw the Hanser car come down the road. It was an Oldsmobile. As she noticed the car approaching it swerved into the snow along the road which had been piled up by the snow plow. It then returned to the road and again struck the snow alongside the road and ran into a tree at the junction of Albany avenue and Roosevelt avenue and also struck the short car, which was standing still at the intersection before entering Albany avenue. Miss North testified she had heard the crash but did not see the accident. She returned to the scene and observed the position of the cars and the damage done but did not remain until the cars were towed away.

Carlton Kron, garage mechanic at the Albany Avenue Garage, testified to the damage done the Short car. He towed both cars from the scene.

The accident happened about 4:30
in the afternoon.

Walter J. Miller appears for plaintiff and Lloyd R. LeFevre for the defendant. Defendant alleges that the accident was due to the carelessness of plaintiff.

Sex and Study

Women, according to German university statisticians, are good students of economics, industrial history, and chemistry, but they are beaten by men at mathematics.

WHY Longest and Shortest Days Are Fluctuating

According to our present calendar the longest day in the year may be either June 21 or June 22 in places using standard time. In each year preceding a leap year the longest day is June 21, while in all other years it is June 22. Likewise, the shortest day in the year may be either December 21 or December 22. It is December 22 in all years except leap years, when it is December 21.

The longest and shortest days of the year are determined by the summer and winter solstices—the times of the year when the sun is at its greatest declination, either north or south. For instance, the summer solstice is the time at which the sun reaches its farthest point in its swing northward from the equator and which accordingly marks the longest day in the year. The solstices fluctuate because of the fractional day of each year, which is adjusted by the leap years. The longest and shortest days differ in length from the days immediately preceding and following them only by a fraction of a minute.

Why Peculiar Coloring

That Affects Albino

There is no race of people possessing the characteristics of white hair and pink eyes, this being a condition likely to affect individuals of any race.
It is known as albinism and is due to an absence of pigment or coloring matter in the skin, hair and eyes. It has been recorded in the great majority of the species, breeds, and varieties of domesticated animals and cultivated plants. In mankind it has been observed in most races and probably occurs in all. Its frequency is not known but it is estimated at perhaps one in 10,000. Today it is possibly most frequent among the Indians of Arizona and Mexico. The condition is sometimes inherited. A human being who is an albino has pale milkywhite skin, white hair and pinkish eyeballs, this pink color being due to blood showing through the transparent cornea, iris and retina. Affections of the eye are the most disgreable features for albinos.

Why Plants Face Sun

Just why do plants turn their leaves and flowers to face the sun?
They seem to follow the sun around in order to have the largest possible area exposed to its light. Science is now trying to solve this strange behavior. The great Smithsonian institution is conducting experiments to determine what causes the phenomenon.
Popular Mechanics Magazine indicates that photosynthesis is responsible.
You will recall or your dictionary will tell you that photosynthesis is the manufacture of carbohydrates out of carbon dioxide and water in the chlorophyll-containing tissues of plants exposed to light. The intensity of the light and its wavelength also play important roles.

Why Statesmen's Privilege

The necessity for protecting members of congress from the hazard of arrest with a view to influencing the deliberations and acts for political or other unworthy reasons was recognized by the authors of the United States Constitution and provided for in the following from Article I. "The senators and representatives shall . . . in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place."

Why Twilight Varies

Twilight persists until the sun is 18 degrees below the horizon. It thus follows that the length of twilight increases with the latitude. At the equator there is practically no twilight, the sun sinks very rapidly, while in latitudes greater than 48.5 degrees twilight lasts all night in summer. The actual duration of twilight varies considerably with different places due to the character of the atmosphere.

Why England Grows Smaller

A royal commission has found that England is crumbling into the sea at the rate of 6.99 inches every 31 years.
However, there would seem to be no particular urgency, except for those persons living near the sea shore, for it would take 172,626 years before all England had disappeared if the present rate of erosion were to continue unchecked.

Why Use of Side-Saddle

It is said that the side-saddle was introduced in England in the Fourteenth century for the use of a queen who was deformed and could not ride astride. The fashion set by royalty was followed by others, until almost all women of western countries were using the side-saddle.

Why Chose to "Buddy"

"Buddy" is an old familiar name for a chum. A companion in arms, or a person with whom another "chummed" was called his buddy long before the World war. But the nickname became more popular during the war and now it is often applied to veterans in general.

Why Air Bubbles in Ice

The bureau of agricultural engineering says that one of the most common causes of air bubbles in natural ice is a turbulent inlet into the pool or lake.

Diamond's Brilliancy

Although the diamond is the hardest stone and will scratch any other material, it is also very brittle, so that it may be easily fractured, and in a steel mortar with a steel pestle it may be reduced to a powder.

Tagging Major League Bases

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

As the Chicago Cubs continue to hang in a little closer to the National League day by day, gradually winning the thing by default, so to speak, their manager is perfectly satisfied with their conduct and steadfastly refuses to view with alarm.

Griffith wants it that way. Not that he wouldn't like to win every day. He's in there fighting on every pitched ball, but he isn't in any great hurry to see the pennant. He wants his team to remain level-headed as long as possible, doesn't want them to have an extended "let-down" before they meet the Yankees in the world series.

"I believe it's better for a club to keep on its toes right up to the series," he said. "These Yankees, now, have nothing to do for a couple of weeks except play out their schedule, and it might be hard for them to get back that keen edge they had while they were winning the series."

It's just an idea of Griffith's and is contrary to all precedent, something like his new fangled notion that his men are playing "with" him, not "for" him. If the former idea works out as well as has the latter since Griffith took hold of the Cubs, there is trouble brewing for the Yankees.

The Cubs lost to the New York Giants yesterday, 4 to 3, when Freddie Lindstrom poked a home run in the 11th inning, but it didn't damage their status any to speak of, as the Pittsburgh Pirates were dropping their second straight to Boston, 5 to 2. The Cubs thus remained 5½ games in front with 11 games to play, making it possible for them to clinch the title with seven more wins.

A triple play, started by Bill Urbanski, enlivened the Braves victory over Pittsburgh. Brooklyn climbed within 2½ games of second place by taking the St. Louis Cardinals again, 3 to 1, behind Van Mungo's steady curving. The Phillies subdued Cincinnati, 4 to 1, as Big Roy Hansen limited the Reds to four hits.

Some of the Yankee veterans took a well earned rest, but the "Jayvees" were able to beat the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 2. Detroit whaled four Washington pitchers to win an 8 to 3 verdict.

Jimmie Dykes' home run with two out and the bases loaded in the ninth round set off an eight run rally that saw the Athletics submerge St. Louis, 13 to 6. Mel Harder kept seven hits scattered in pitching Cleveland to a 9 to 0 win over the Red Sox.

Grand Slam Series!

THE STORY OF BABE RUTH, RECORD WRECKER

Note trimly built fellow (left) that was the Babe Ruth of 1920, the year his 54 home runs for the Yankees revived interest in baseball staggered by the "Black Sox" world's series scandal of the previous season. The latter-day Ruth, portly but still a record breaker, is shown right.

This is the fourth of ten stories relating the prodigious world's series feats of the one and only Babe Ruth. Nearing the end of his career, the Babe this year will make his tenth and perhaps last appearance in the classic.

By EDWARD J. NEIL

(Associated Press Sports Editor)
New York, Sept. 15 (AP).—Gloom hung deep over baseball in 1920 and the game that had grown with the years from the time Abner Doubleday sketched out the first diamond fought both for life and honor.

The pall was the treachery of half a dozen stars of the White Sox who sold their chances of winning the world's series of 1919 against the Cincinnati Reds to a syndicate of gamblers. The scandal rocked baseball, shattered confidence, sent fans home sneering suspiciously at every play.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

It appears to be a serious question this year whether Francis Oulmet can muster the strength to withstand the fresh charge of America's golfing youth in the forthcoming national amateur championship at Baltimore.

The old master still carries one of the greatest competitive temperaments the ancient game has ever known, plus a putting touch that seems to grow surer and more deadly with age.

Oulmet's comeback last year at Beverly added a dramatic chapter to one of the game's outstanding careers. His play in the Walker cup matches, after an illness, demonstrated his ability to rise to occasions.

When I asked him how he felt during the first day's play he laughed: "Don't I look as though the reports about my health were a bit exaggerated?" He did and so did his game.

The Boston veteran, long past the stage where his own ambitions are paramount where golf is concerned, takes a personal interest in the rise of the newer generation. He was especially delighted at the way Billy Howell, the young Virginia star, and Don Moo justified his confidence in their ability to contribute a winning point in the Scotch foursomes against the British.

Six of Britain's Walker cup players are booked to participate in the American championship, starting September 12, but chief interest will lie in the attempt of the current

And to add to the troubles of the national game, Ray Chapman, brilliant young Cleveland shortstop, was hit in the head and fatally injured by a fast ball from Carl Mays' hand.

Babe to the Rescue

Against this background of suspicion there suddenly played the brilliance of a new slugging hero, Babe Ruth, with a new accomplishment, home run hitting, to overpower the situation with his individual color and earnestness and single-handed save the dangerous day for baseball.

There have been times since when it seemed that the Great Bambino, favored as no man before or since by the gods of sport, weakened under the tremendous obligations baseball put upon him in later days.

No Fluster Slight

Rolling back playboy at heart, lifted almost overnight from the rigid discipline of a Baltimore orphan school to the freedom, glory and financial success of a national hero, the caddy, roaring, big-hearted Bam has failed at times to play out the full string, particularly in 1925 when his excesses brought him down a roaring invalid with the most famous "tummy" ache in sports history.

But in baseball's time of need, husky, vigorous young Ruth repaid for all time the great rewards it brought him, and paved the way for tolerance when later in his career he needed baseball's sympathy and understanding most.

Underway in 1920

Hitting with power and savagery new to baseball, the Babe smashed all home run records in 1920, his first with the Yankees, by clouting 54. Fandom seized upon his mighty figure, lionized him, filled the ball parks to see him swing, and forgot entirely the doleful predictions that followed the Black Sox scandal.

Baseball hitched its chariot to a new star. The much discussed "rabbit" crept into the ball, and in 1921 the Babe responded with 59 home runs, a feat that awed the populace and left all but sports writers speechless, as he carried forward a new era in hitting and launched the most amazing of all world's series records.

British champion, 25-year-old John De Forest, to make a comeback.

The circumstances are somewhat reminiscent of 1928 when the British amateur champion of that year, Thomas Philip Perkins, now a professional, came back to reach the finale of the American championship at Brae Burn after being soundly trounced by Bobby Jones in the Walker cup singles, besides losing in the foursome competition. Perkins, of course, lost again to Jones in the title round but he put on a real comeback, nevertheless.

Not That Bad

De Forest, too, is a better golfer than he showed himself to be at Brookline. He and Tony Torrance were withered by the very blast of golf turned loose by Gus Moreland and Charley Seaver. They were beaten before they could get started. De Forest was nervous and undoubtedly so unstrung that it was figured of no use to send him back into the singles.

The Hartley brothers, Rex and Lister; Torrance, the Scotch dentist; Fiddian and McRivie are the other British entries listed for the national tournament.

Yellow Jackets Will Not Organize

The first practice of the Yellow Jackets held Wednesday night led to the final decision that has been hanging in the air since the first meeting of the team, an organization. The boys along with Lou Kastrowitz, manager of the squad, talked the prospects of the coming season over and decided that they were poor in comparison with past years and that the boys had a small chance of being compensated for their time and energy.

The Jackets reluctantly gave up the thought of playing. What seemed to bother them most was the fact that only about half the crowd that watched them play paid to see. Apparently they disliked the idea of playing for a bunch of children and poor spectators. This fact seemed to add the finishing touches to their calling it quits.

Large crowds witnessed the game last year. Most generally there were over 1,000 fans on the side lines per the receipts were not more than $110 or $120. The highest gate last year was at the Woodlawn game. Exactly $265 was taken in that day and there was over 2,000 people at the game. Fifty dollars of that amount came from Woodlawn. They brought three buses of fans along with them, so that means 1,500 Kingston fans got in for $150.

To those fans who did support the team, the Yellow Jackets extend their thanks. The many business men in Kingston are also to be thanked for their support in helping the Jackets through former seasons. The players who practiced Wednesday night. Phil was one of the tackle high school football. His career has been a bad shoulder.

Lou Kastrowitz, announcing season tickets were available if enough were purchased. The ability of organization would be considered further.

Der Maxie Trains Hard For Walker Bout

MADIGAN SEES BIG YEAR FOR GAELS

Stadium gentlemen show is Edward "Slip" Madigan, St. Mary's coach, trying to figure out a way for the Galloping Gaels to win all the games this season. With so much talent that Angel Brovelli, wing fullback, has been pushed to right halfback, the Gaels scent national title.

City League Game Tonight

The league-leading Forst Butchers and the Taliet Boxmen will meet in a City League game at the Athletic Field this evening. The Butchers by winning this game will be assured of a tie for first place in the second half. The Boxmen also have a chance of coming in on a deadlock, but need this game and one more. Big Jim Voelker is slated to do the pitching for the Butchers with Robins behind the plate. Phil Peters will do the mound duty for the Boxmen and Tomasek will be the receiver. Game will be called at 6 o'clock.

Kingston All Stars Play Doubleheader

Sunday afternoon at Wallkill Prison the Kingston All Stars will engage in a doubleheader with Matty Deegan's team of that place for the first two-game engagement since the organization of the All Stars, 12 years ago.

The Wallkill prison aggregation is a strong combination of well coached players and is drawing to the end of a successful season. Matty Deegan, former second baseman for the old Kingston Colonials, is the coach of the prison nine. This team is comparatively new and Matty is expecting big things from it next year.

At the same time the Kingston All Stars have been waging a campaign along the river, meeting with great success. They have defeated some of the strongest teams in the Hudson valley.

The absence of Babe Volker and Willard Thomas creates a problem as to who will do the pitching for the Stars. But Manager McCordie announced yesterday that probably Dewey Van Buren and Pres Knight will do the honors.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)
Chicago—Prince Saunders, Chicago, outpointed Danny Delmont, Chicago (10).
Denver, Colo.—Mickey Cohen, Denver, outpointed Eddie Mack, Denver (10).
Spring Water
The temperature of the water from a spring varies little ordinarily with the season. After one reaches a depth of 30 feet there is little appreciable change in the temperature throughout the year. Water coming from this depth would, therefore, show little change in temperature. At 10 feet there would be a difference of about only one degree in temperature and there would be a six-month lag which would cause the water to be hottest in December and coldest in July. Sometimes there is a considerable mixture of surface water, which gives a change in the temperature.

SAN FRANCISCO BAY BURNES MANY SHIPS

Buy Commerce Plus Over Numerous Wrecks.

San Francisco—Some with their masts awry, some with their masts sternally brimming, and some with their bows stove in, but all with green seas in their holds, a motley company of wrecked vessels lay in the folds of the bay here, bathed under the busy commerce.

Between 40,000 and 70,000 persons cross the bay daily, but few know of the ghostly wrecks beneath them.

Somewhere in the vicinity of the Vallejo piers is the bulk of the ferry Julia, which exploded February 27, 1906, and sank with a loss of 30 lives.

Two Famous Wrecks

Somewhere off Fort Point at the bay's entrance lie two famous wrecks, the City of Rio de Janeiro and the City of Chester. The Rio de Janeiro, a 3,000-ton vessel carrying a Brazilian cargo, struck a rock in deep water and sank within ten minutes, carrying 124 persons to their death.

The City of Chester went down August 22, 1888, five minutes after colliding with the steel steamer Titanic from Liverpool. Sixteen lost their lives.

Somewhere in San Pablo bay lies the wreck of the schooner Secretary, whose hulls exploded April 15, 1884. Fifty were lost. The bark Atlantic lies somewhere along the edge of the Golden Gate, where she sank in 1880 carrying down 27. In the bay off Alcatraz Island is the Aberdeen, which went down in 1916, drowning eight.

Stranded on Rocks

Stranded on the rocks off Land's End is a portion of the freighter Lyman Stewart, wrecked when it collided with the Walter A. Luckenbach, October 7, 1922. Water shoots through the rusty plates and up the pipes of the vessel as its bulk rolls in the pounding surf. Less than a mile away lies the steamer Coos Bay, which drove far up on the beach at Land's End in a heavy fog five years later.

There are many others resting about the fringes of the bay. The Port Saunders, the Golden City, the Trifolium, the Red Wing, the Aberdeen—barges, schooners, fishing boats, trim motorboats, sailboats—all are there, mute objects in a kind of marine museum.

Greater London Shows Big Gain in Population

London.—The population of Greater London now totals 8,203,042, as revealed by the first official report compiled from the census reports of last year.

The increase in population, as compared with 1921, has been 9.7 per cent or nearly three times as great as in the preceding decade, and nearly twice as great as the current increase for the nation at large.

Greater London's inhabitants are divided into 4,371,026 females and only 3,832,016 males. How that happened, the report doesn't design to disclose. Figures for the city of London and the 28 metropolitan boroughs which comprise the administrative county of London (as distinct from Greater London) show a decline of 87,250 for the ten-year period. This population is now 4,307,003.

Harp's Long History

The harp is the oldest of stringed instruments. The Bible mentions Jubal as the inventor. The harp has been used by all nations in one form or another. The improvements which have rendered the modern harp an efficient musical instrument are due to Sebastian Erard, who in 1794 took out a patent for a harp with seven pedals, and again in 1808 for a double-action harp with the same number of pedals, each of which effects two changes in the pitch of the strings. Various improvements over Erard's harp were made during the Nineteenth century.

Monkeys Are Mimics

The monkey always has been a notorious mimic. Since first becoming acquainted with man, his favorite diversion has been the imitating of human actions and mannerisms. The very expression "aping a person" has come to mean mimicking him. The dog has been called man's truest friend, but the monkey is his best imitator. The movie producers have capitalized upon this propensity of the ape and have filmed pictures with all manner of simian casts. Every character has been a chimpanzee, or a monkey actor has been a chimpanzee, or an orang-outang.

GET FREE WITH NOODLES

Sept. 15 (P)—Fifty most persons, homeward bound, were seen in a panic as three cars with screaming sirens sped through deep streets, exchanging machine gun fire with its youth.

fol headlines who abandoned their car and escaped after it was rammed by a truck.

Of the thousands imperiled by the gun fire, which occurred in the midst of last evening's rush hour, four bystanders were hit by bullets. One of the injured, shot in the left lung, was in a critical condition today. The clash was precipitated by the headlines' mistaken notion that a squad of policemen, whose car drove up behind them on Michigan boulevard, was after them. The gunmen, not waiting for a go-signal, immediately shot forward. The police car, assigned to the accident prevention bureau, followed and the chase was on.

At The Theatres

Today

Kingston: "The Last Mile." Taken from the stage play of the same name this dramatic thunderbolt has been recreated on the screen with all the force of the original. It is the story of the man who is in the death house of a great prison, awaiting his turn to die. Their thoughts, their actions, their fears and bravado are all forcibly brought before an audience. It isn't an enjoyable bit of entertainment, but it is real and vital in what it attempts to teach. Members of the cast include Howard Phillips, Preston Foster, Noel Madison, and George Stone.

Orpheum: "This is the Night." and "The Wyoming Whirlwind." The first is a gay, frothy talkie, filled with risqué situations and many laughs. There are some splendid musical numbers and the setting of Lily Damita, Thelma Todd, Roland Young and Charles Ruggles is above reproach. "The Wyoming Whirlwind" is effectively played by Lane Chandler, and is a fast moving western melodrama that is above the average in entertainment value.

Broadway: "New Morals for Old." Myrna Loy, Jean Hersholt, Lewis Stone, Robert Young, Margaret Perry, and Laura Crews are members of the fine cast in this story of modern youth and the changing customs youth is undergoing in this day and age.

Ritz: Zulieka, Physic-Astrologist and on the screen, "Forbidden Company."

Tomorrow

Kingston: Same.

Orpheum: "Is Mr. Fox Red?" and "Mason of the Mounted." Helen Twelvetrees and Ricardo Cortez are together again in the first feature, a story of a newspaper columnist who seeks scandal at the expense of decency. Fast moving drama, with a melodramatic ending. "Mason of the Mounted" offers Bill Cody and Andy Shuffelt in a story of the northwest.

Broadway: Same.

Ritz: Same.

Monastery Founded by Monarch to Keep Vow

King Leopold III, first ruler of Belgium, later to become Emperor of Austria, was so opposed to women exposing any part of their form, regardless of the fashion, that he was moved to build the town of Klosterneuburg and its cathedral and monastery because his wife lost her veil, according to a writer in the Detroit News. The veil was one he had given her for a wedding present, and one day while standing on the balcony watching for her lord and master to come home the wind snatched the veil and waited it away. Servants could not find it and the king was quite angry about its loss when he came home. He swore it should be found and for seven years he drove his soldiers nearly mad in the search. He even had a number of the soldiers put to death because he thought they were lax in looking for it.

Finally he retired to his private apartment and prayed. He vowed that if his prayers were heard he would build a magnificent monastery on the spot where the veil was found. Oddly enough, the veil was found immediately. He summoned the Order of Augustine monks to help him, and they in turn brought thousands of laborers. Klosterneuburg and its cathedral were finished in 1130, after a labor of 23 years.

King Leopold died six weeks after his vow was accomplished.

Dogs That Uphold and Others That Break Law

Dogs are used to smuggle contraband into Spain. They swim ashore from the smugglers' boats, carrying "duty-free" goods in waterproof packages strapped to their backs.

They work swiftly and silently, not even shaking themselves when they reach the shore, but making off at a good pace for the smugglers' inland depot. They are trained to avoid men in uniform.

But dogs can assist the police as well as break the law. The work of police dogs abroad is well known, and even "amateurs" sometimes act as detectives.

In one recent case a dog, after sniffing for some minutes in a room which had been burgled, ran away. It entered, climbed the stairs, and sat down outside a room which had just been vacated. When its former occupant was arrested he confessed to the theft.

Dogs have also a good record as lifeguards, and hardly a holiday passes without some venturist's youngster in difficulties being rescued by a four-footed hero.

World War Dog Hero Gets Life License

Wilshire, Ill.—Praised recognition for valor in the service of his country in foreign wars has just come to Goldberg, formerly Irish terrier that was overseas mascot of the One Hundred and Twenty-second field artillery.

Goldberg, holding honorable discharge papers from the army, was granted a life-time dog license. No dog catcher can arrest him.

Goldberg went overseas in 1917, a tramping puppy in a doghouse's overcoat pocket. That was strictly against orders, but Maj. Gen. Milton J. Foreman, then colonel in command of the One Hundred and Twenty-second, took no notice.

Goldberg was quarantined, then shocked and received a bullet wound in one leg. He returned to America with his regiment after the war.

OUR DAILY PATTERN

A Pretty Morning Frock for the Larger Woman

7091. Printed voile combined with orzandy was used in this instance. This attractive model is also good in printed or plain linen. It is a very pleasing style for tub silk or gingham. The fronts in scalloped or plain outline, are open over a deep vestee. The skirt portions are joined to the vestee at scalloped or plain outline as preferred, and the cuff is finished in the same way.

Designed in 16 sizes: 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52 and 54 inches bust measure. It will require 2 1/2 yards of 25 inch material for a 40 inch size. For vestee and cuffs in contrasting material 3/4 yard 25 inches wide is required cut crosswise. To finish the scalloped outlines with bias binding or piping will require 4 1/2 yards 1 1/2 inch wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is 3 yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Book of Fashions, Fall 1932. Send 15c in silver or stamps for our FALL BOOK OF FASHIONS containing designs of Ladies' Misses' and Children's Patterns, also Hints to the Home Dressmaker.

Fighting Butterflies. The American copper butterfly, a small orange, black and bronze but rarely that is common during the summer on many small flowers of the garden or field, has the reputation of being one of the most pernicious of all butterflies. A pair of these butterflies will guard a patch of roadside or some other spot they have selected against all intruders. The caterpillar of the common worm, is so small that it is rarely seen.
